

200

Architectural elevation drawing of a building facade. The drawing shows a central entrance with a window and a small structure above it. The facade is divided into three main sections by vertical lines. The central section has a window and a small structure above it. The side sections have a sloped roof and a small structure above them. Elevation markers are provided for various points: +181,278 at the base, +196,628 at the roofline, +197,488 at the top of the central section, and +198,128 at the top of the side sections. The drawing is labeled '200' in the top left corner.
